vetedy, a Responsible Choice.

Our decks and claddings are not only beautiful – they're built to last.

Wood is the most ecological material on Earth.
Sourced from responsibly managed forests, it stands the test of time with elegance.

And when a deck reaches the end of its life? Nothing is lost – every component can be recycled and/or re-used.

Our production is just as exemplary: we heat our workshops using our own wood waste, and our investments in renewable energy strengthen our autonomy.

With vetedy, every project is more than just a creation.
It's a sustainable act. It's a vision for the future.
